“ I miss you everyday. Gaby is 16 now and I can't believe it's been 13 years since we lost you. I feel your presence. I know you are with us and protecting her. You were an amazing person that was just trying to celebrate a big promotion at work. You were living your American dream and it was all taken away so fast. We had our differences when you passed but I would give anything to just have you back to help ease the pain our daughter feels everyday over the loss of her father.
