Merton (Jack) Fischer, 96, was born to the now late John and Ella (Reinhart) Fischer, in Tilleda, Wisconsin, in 1925. He grew up in Shawano, Wisconsin. During World War II, he served in the U.S. Army Air Force, 8th Air Force, out of England, from which he received an Honorable Discharge. In 1948, he married the former Caroline Kuchenbecker. He received an Electrical Engineering Degree from Marquette University and his Master's Degree in International Management from Arizona State University. He lived in several countries other than the U.S. with his wife during his career. When he retired in 1989, they spent half of each year for 25 years in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, where for six years, they owned and operated a small resort. While living there, they and another couple started an English-speaking service in a small Spanish-speaking church. They also began an English service in their home while living in Costa Rica with members of the Latin America Mission. Both groups are still growing with financial help from U.S. churches.

Two sisters preceded him in death: Angeline Fischer of Birnamwood, Wisconsin, and Burnell Laux of Aiken, South Carolina.

His wife, Caroline, survives him: as well as one son: John Fischer, and his wife, Sandra, of Elkhart, Indiana: one daughter, Jean Friedline, and her husband, Patrick, of Cary, Illinois, and six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren who all live in Texas, Pennsylvania, Washington D.C., Indiana and Illinois.
