“ Nikki, I will never forget how you were my first baby sitter and the impact that you made on my first 10 years of life. The memories that our families have are way to wild to try to forget. We love you. Rest in paradise.

“ I just want to say that even tho I did not know her she sounded like a very loving mom and person. She would take the shirt off her back for anyone. It a shame that she had to leave us all so soon. She still had more then half of her life to live yet. How could someone kill this Beautiful young lady. I wish I would had the opportunity to meet her before she left this earth. I just want to say to the kids that I am so so so sorry your mom had to leave this earth so soon. There is one thing I want to say is I wish I could of taken her place and not her so she could continue to be the best mom she was. And that her kids would have a mom if I could of taken her place. If u guys ever need. Anything I am hear for u. My name is Amy Erbrecht. U can find me on Facebook. May God continue To bring the light out in everyone of u. And she would not want u to all be sad. She would all want u to go on continuing living your life with a smile on your face and to just remember her for all the good things she did in life. May u all have God in your life each and everyday to come. May u all have peace in your life. Have a blest day today and take care of yourself today. Peace.
